Web Developer with immense coding knowledge & experience paired with an unmarred ability to grasp new technologies & software implementation. With a diverse background in HVAC tech, Customer Service and certification from Case Western Reserve University in Full Stack technologies such as JavaScript, SQL, Node & React. Someone who is not afraid to do any meticulous dirty work, but is also comfortable in the spotlight where direct communication and personal consumer fulfillment is necessary. An analytical mindset has allowed me to flourish in this changing career path and will no-doubt grant me the ability to to accommodate any engineering team.
